FIRST BAPTIST

Regular preaching services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a.m. The pastor delivered a wonderful message.

Rev. John Beamer, pastor of the New Light Baptist Church of Bedford and the ex-pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the guest speaker for the 3 p.m. service Sunday. His choir and his members came with him. This service was sponsored by Miss E. Wright for the benefit of the Building Fund. She wishes to thank the people for their donations and the ones who came to help make the program a success. Thank you.

We were happy to have the visiting pastors, Rev. Williams, Rev. Bagby, and Rev. Bagby's guest, Rev. Murry, to worship with us in the service.

On the fifth Sunday in this month at 11 a.m. there will be a youth program sponsored by Mrs. T. W. Hamlett. She's asking each and everyone to come, Oct. 31st.

On the second Sunday in November, Family Day will be held at 11 a.m. Each and everyone is asked to bring all members of the family.

Glad to know Mrs. Ella Brown is feeling better.

The Ladies Aide will meet this Wed. night at 7 p.m. at the church. All members are asked to please try to be present.

Appomattox DECA Represented

President, David Page, Vice-President, Milton Ferguson, Treasurer, Tony Clifton and Parliamentarian, Dennis Chenault represented the ACHS Chapter of DECA in the District 16 planning meeting held at Liberty H. S.

After the planning meeting these officers participated in an officer training session open to DECA Clubs from Appomattox, Buckingham, Liberty, E. C. Glass, Brookville, Rustburg, and Amherst. This should improve the caliber of leadership in District 16 and in the Appomattox chapter.

We would like to thank Wilburn's Grocery Store, Dixie Blend, Tolley's Esso and J. E. Sears and Co. for enabling these officers to attend this activity.

Concord Squad Stands-By At Game

Burnette Smith, member of the Concord Rescue Squad, is shown in the picture above, ready for action if needed, at a Little League football game at Concord. This year, for the first time, Concord has three teams participating in the Little League, they are the Mites, the Midgets and the Concord Varsity. Their first game was played on September 11th, with all three teams seeing action and with the Concord Rescue Squad available at all home games.

to 1/3 ratio) by the state. As it is, according to the clerk, the state will reimburse the county only 75¢ per call by a physician.

The three county physicians, Drs. C. G. O'Brien, J. A. Mathews and A. A. Fratrick, are authorized by the county to treat prisoners if they need it.

Resident Engineer T. E. Pitman said that several persons had been to the highway office to see the maps by the proposed by-pass of Appomattox.

Judge C. F. P. Crawley made a request to the supervisors for some items of furniture for his offices and the request was granted.

G. L. James, extension agent, agriculture, appeared before the board to discuss an offer of land and a pond in the Pamplin area. The county has been offered the property as a gift, and James was at the meeting to continue a discussion of possible uses plus the question raised previously, as to who would be responsible for upkeep insurance and other responsibilities.

Board chairman O. W. Martin Jr. said that if some responsible group would take charge of the property, it would be a welcome addition to the county's recreational facilities.

Upon James' suggestion, the supervisors will invite Art Buchler, Projects Administrator, Va. Commission of Outdoor Recreation, to come before the board either in Nov. or Dec. with some recommendations.

Supervisor John C. Cole advised the board that a proposed zoning ordinance is being prepared by the Appomattox County Planning Commission and will soon be ready for the consideration of the supervisors and other residents of the county.

Mrs. Aldah B. Gordon has been appointed by the board to be the third person in a committee to plan this county's participation in the Bicentennial Anniversary of the Independence of the U. S. (1976-1983). She replaces Mrs. John C. Cole, who declined to serve. Others on the three-member committee are Mrs. O. W. Martin, Jr. and Mrs. O. H. Tolley.

Pastor Speaks

Reward For Suffering

Quote . . "But as his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff: they shall part alike." I Sam. 30:24

Some of the greatest messages that I have ever heard were not delivered from the pulpits across our lands, but from the beds of affliction. The deepest truths of God's Word have been revealed not by those who stood up and preached a message as a result of special preparation and education, but from humble souls who have gone thru the valley of affliction and have learned experimentally the deep things of the ways of God. The Bible tells us there is a special crown which the Lord has prepared for those who suffer patiently. This principle is suggested in the incident here in I Sam. 30:24, David had gone out to seek the enemy with 400 strong and healthy men. However, 200 had remained behind because they were weary and faint. Probably because they were nursing some physical disease. David ordered these to care for the stuff for the rest of the men went into the heat of the battle. After the victory was over and we those who had actually fought in the fight refused to share with those who had remained behind. They wanted to give them just a little bit and keep most of the spoils themselves. They felt that David set down the eternal principle expressed in the words of our text, "But as his part that goeth down to the battle so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff: they shall part alike."

Yes, we have a lot of suffering people in our community. We have a number in our Church who "remain by the stuff", but they're not overlooked, nor or they forgotten by our Saviour. Those that suffer willingly and patiently have a reward laid up for them in Heaven. Those who cannot go out to active battle but by their prayers and patience still do a mighty work for our Saviour's cause.

Therefore, my beloved friend, if you are a bed patient in our community or confined in the home, if you know the Lord Jesus Christ as your personal Saviour, pray God's Grace upon your life that you might suffer gallantly for him, and then patiently wait for the day of rewards. It may surprise you to know that many men in the Bible accomplished more in their death and suffering than they ever did in their life time.

"Our little hour of watching with the Master,
Eternal years to walk with him in white
One little hour so bravely met disaster
Eternal years to reign with him in light,
One little hour for weary toils and trials
Eternal years for calm and peaceful rest
One little hour for patient self-denial
Eternal year for life where life is blessed!"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

PRAY BOLDLY

Lesson for October 17, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 7:7-12; Romans 8:26-27; II Corinthians 12: 1-10; Hebrews 11:6

Devotional Reading: Psalms 42

One summer while I was in college the only job I could get was selling household goods door-to-door. Usually, my summers were spent in construction projects, but this summer saw a building slump and the sales position was the only thing available to me.

I was a timid salesman. I approached each door with mixed feelings: afraid no one would answer my knock, and even more afraid someone would! I wanted to make sales but I dreaded the process of selling. When someone did open the door, I was apologetic and dubious in my approach, I had steeled myself to accept their refusal. Needless to say, it was a lean summer!

Beginning With Belief

Many people attempt to pray in much the same manner that I tried to make door-to-door sales. Their prayers are timid, apologetic, and prepared to accept the worst. They seem not only afraid that God will not answer, but even more fearful that he will! They are not terribly disappointed that nothing seems to happen, because they didn't expect anything to happen in the first place.

Failure in prayer can often be traced to timidity. We do not receive anything in prayer, not because God is reluctant to give, but because we have rendered ourselves unable to receive. It is interesting that the Greek word for receiving and taking is the same. As Andrew Murray once pointed out, when Jesus says, " 'Everyone that asketh receiveth,' he used the same verb as at the Supper, 'Take, eat' . . . Receiving not only implies God's bestowment, but our acceptance." Thus, the problem is not at the giving end but at the receiving end of the transaction.

Continuing With Vigor

This is why Jesus uses three action verbs in one of his well-known discourses on prayer: "Ask . . . seek . . . knock . . ." (Matthew 7:7). There is nothing timid about these verbs. They are vigorous approaches to prayer. Yet neither are they brash: they are aggressive and assured only because they presume to know that God is even more willing to give and answer than they are to seek and ask. We may dare to pray boldly because we have caught a vision of the boldness of God's grace.

Emily Gardiner Neale has said: "Our besetting sin, and I think it is a sin, is that we habitually expect so pitifully little, daring to impose upon His mercy and His power the limits of our own humanity." To pray timidly is to demean God, to indicate that we have grave doubts about his grace. In a sense, this is insulting to him, for he has so clearly demonstrated to us the depths of his Fatherly love.

To pray boldly is an act of affirmation and praise.

My First Issue:

I am firmly opposed to any further increase in real estate taxes in the rural areas of Virginia. The six counties of our district are already making a greater real estate tax effort based on per capita income than are the counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Henrico, and many others in Virginia.

Eighty to ninety per cent of your real estate taxes go for support of your local school system.

There is only one way a state senator can help prevent further increases in local real estate taxes and still provide support for local schools. He must work for a more equitable formula for distribution of state funds for schools.

If elected to the State Senate on November 2, I pledge my untiring efforts to achieve this goal. I believe we can obtain a better distribution of our present state funds, and an increase in the present level of state support for local schools, with vigorous and effective leadership in the State Senate.

I solicit and will appreciate your vote and support
